ROBERTS STORE TO OPEN HERE FRIDAY

The Roberts 5c to $1.00 Store has announced formal opening on Friday and Saturday of this week. Each day the store will open at 8 a. m.

N. L. Caperton who owns an interest in the store, will also be its manger and has arranged for the two days of greater bargains to welcome the people for the opening of the new store.

Store Beautiful

Extensive improvements have been made in the building, one of the chief expenditures is a new floor of pine superbly finished. New decorations have been installed, a better lighting system and in general the store is one of beauty and shining with new goods. Great stocks have been purchased in the East for this sale. Formal opening had been delayed pending receipt of bright new stocks bought in New York and shipped by water to effect savings which are being passed along to the public.

Free Ice Cream

Mr. Caperton announces a novel method of free gifts to feature the opening. Ice Cream will be served free during the two days—Friday and Saturday. Special prices are to be made on these days. Many items in the heavily stocked store are to be sold at below cost figures as an introduction of the new Roberts store in Cameron. Only retail sales will be made. No merchant may buy at the prices quoted.

Caperton Experienced

Mr. Caperton gave up a good position in Lockhart to take the management of the Cameron store. He is experienced and has demonstrated his ability as a store technician in the beauty that has been wrought into the interior as well as the stocks bought largely through his knowledge of markets. "The Cameron store is one of the best I have ever seen he said. "The stocks are heavy and we are ready for the greatest bargain giving event in the history of Cameron."

Public Is Thanked

The store has been open for several weeks and has enjoyed a good patronage and the owners are grateful to the public for this nice business. The plan of the store management is to offer a better type of values at prices that compete and at the same time maintain a high standard of value giving through better merchandise. Buying power plus a knowledge of the business, the management says, will enable the Roberts Store to be one of the chief low selling center of Central Texas.

STEPPING OVER THE THRESHOLD

By

VIVIAN WHITES

Valedictorian Class of 1937 Yoe High School

"Now that we, the Yoe High seniors of '37, as all seniors in years before have done and those in years to come will do, are stepping forth over the threshold into the world, we see before us the opportunity to work shoulder to shoulder with the grown people of our state and nation. We are ready to face the fact, however, that this opportunity carries with it a solemn obligation. This obligation is to give the full measure of our ability to the age in which we live.

"Immediately some of us will become fellow workers with the adults while many of us will seek further education before we actually begin to assume these responsibilities. But at any rate, since life is a continuous process, all of us see this opportunity before us and naturally take pride in it. It means a great deal to be an important part of our nation's progress. This opportunity which is extended us is received with joy, but also with the solemn realization that it is not a light or frivolous matter.

"We, who are leaving our childhood homes, young and very limited in our experience, are yet sufficiently mature to know that now, and even more in the years to come, we too are needed in our nation's program. And yet this very realization strikes us with awe. It is no small matter to have a part in a program in which each step counts so much, in which such accurate logic and decision are needed to avoid national and world upheavels. It is no small matter to carry on the work of those who have gone before us and so labor as to influence rightly the progress of civilization through the ages. We, who are young, heartily appreciate the plan that our Creator has made that youth should work side by side with adults.

"But all of this for us means obligation. Wherever there is a talent, there is an obligation to use that talent rightly. Wherever there is an advantage, it also is imperative to turn that advantage, not for selfish gain, but for the good of all The opportunity which has come to us to serve in the on going of our country carries with it an unmistakable obligation.

"In an attempt to face this obligation, we would make known certain things it is our purpose to do and to be. Representing the Yoe High graduating class of this year, I shall state as best I can, a few of the more important of these.

"First, we will try to justify the public's confidence in us by committing ourselves wholeheartedly and without reservation to promoting the welfare of our country. We purpose to live day by day in the best way we know. We believe this to be the most important obligation upon us.

"We will be loyal to our country. We will support our leaders and their plans. Whenever called upon, we we will contribute our advice and counsel for whatever good it may be. We will seek to understand current problems and take a definite stand for what is right in our opinion.

"In our political problems we will strive for the best for our country. We will endeavor to keep at peace with the world. We are already definitely against war. This attitude throughout our nation is shown by the great anti-war movements in our universities and by the peace activities in other organizations. We will seek to take an active and intelligent interset in the political affairs of our state and nation in order to select the best qualified public officials.

"In our personal problems, we will be true to our best selves. If we are true to our best selves, it naturally follows that we will be true to our associates and recognize their personalities and places in society..

"In our religious problems, it is our purpose to be guided by the teachings of our Savior. We will support our church by attendance and by seeking to carry Christ's teachings into our daily lives, not making Christianity a thing set aside by itself, but practicing it in all phases of our lives.

"Indeed, our country can count upon us to help with the work of the state, the church and the family in doing our part to fill places of responsibility and leadership.

"We will learn, we will plan, and we will give. In our personal lives and in our pubic lives, we will seek to uphold what we think is best. We will give our best thought and intelligence in planning and perfecting our part of the work and we will give ourselves and our means to the support of the program which our nation is carrying on.

"It is with pride that we become aware of the opportunity entrusted to us. It is with determination, courage, and faith in our Master that we likewise assume the obligations which those opportunities imply. We step forth farther into the world, allied with those who precede us and preparing the way for those who follow us to continue the long train of civilization through the ages, hoping that this generation cannot fail in its part, but be remembered for what it gave and for the standards it upheld.

"Tonight, with these purposes in mind, we say farewell to our fellow students, to our faculty, to our school board, and to the citizens of Cameron and the surrounding towns. We appreciate their efforts, their influence, and their love for our class—so much that amid the joy of memories of our past school days, the joy of our present graduation, and the joy of looking forward to the future before us, we are sad at the thought of leaving them. Nevertheless, we say farewell looking forward to a challenging future, believing with Ulysses that:

"All experience is an arch where through
Gleams that untraveled world, whose margin fades,
Forever and forever when I move.
How dull it is to pause, to make an end,
To rust unburnished, not to shine in use!
As though to breathe were life!

Henry Kodern, 90 , of St. Paul, had his wife, 74, arrested for beating him, but the case was dismissed.

FARM CLUB NEWS

"I am glad I planted New Zealand spinach instead of the regular kind because I had no trouble at all in getting it up," Mrs. F. M. Hauptfleish, home food supply demonstrator of Gause told Miss Dorothy Porter, County Home Demonstration Agent recently. The spianch is growing nicely and will withstand hot weather well.

Mrs. Hauptfleish's half acre garden is supplying six or eight kinds of vegetables for the table and some for canning.

This garden was plowed in the fall, and that, with its sandy nature, has conserved the moisture from light showers, making the garden productive.

* * *

Geraldine Sneed, wardrobe demonstrator for the North Elm 4H Club has been able to change her closet into a more convenient one by putting shelves down one side.

She was already using this part of her closet for storage of magazines, books and stacking the boxes. The shelves that she now has enables her to store more articles and to get to the one she wants without lifting any of the others or having them fall down. This added convenience, cost her nothing since the shelves are made from the sides of boxes.

* * *

The orchard demonstrator for the Val Verde 4H Club, Alice Mae Moore, is very proud of her "backyard orchard" that she now has as a result of her Club work. Alice Mae was determined to have an orchard, but she found that her back yard was the only place she had where she could put one. She has planted peach, plum and pear trees; 16 of these she bought, 4 she received from the rally sponsored by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, and the others were gifts from friends.

Alice Mae's trees are too small to bear this year so some friends have already promised to give her all of the fruit she will need to can in order to accomplish her club work. Alice Mae is trying to be 100 per cent in completing her 4H Club goals this year.

* * *

Since Mildred Folschinsky joined the 4H Club she has learned that peach and plum trees whose branches are so high from the ground that a large area of the trunk is exposed are likely to become weak and diseased from being scalded by the sun. Mildred observed that the trees put out at her home last year were incorrectly pruned in this way and she is now trying to overcome the condition by cutting the trees back a little every week or so. Although it is too late for pruning, a nurseryman told her that she might in this way be able to force some buds out lower down on the trunk and still not harm the trees. If she can force out some buds, she will de-head the trees late next fall in order to have stronger trees with branches nearer the ground. Of course, if no branches do come out lower on the trees, the light pruning that she has done will not have injured the trees.

Mildred is the orchard demonstrator for the Ben Arnold 4H Club.

LISTEN FOLKS
By JIM FERGUSON

(Editors Note: This article is published as a news item, and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only.)

The regular session of the 45th Legislature at the end of 130 days term adjourned this week and were immediately called in special session to meet again May 27th to consider repeal of the horse racing law. The expense of the regular session will be approximately $400,000, and the special session will be about $75,000 more.

• • •

The appropriations by the regular session will be over one hundred million dollars—yes 100 million—an average of $100 for family of five in the state for the biennium. While if this was all the tax burden, it would still be bad, but when we take into consideration the additional taxes collected by the counties, cities and school districts and road districts together with income and inheritance, we find that the average tax burden is well over $400 per family, and the amount is growing year by year.

• • •

While the state is rendering service to the people in a great many more ways than in former years, yet the continued increase year by year causes, or should cause us to stop and wonder where the spending is going to end.

• • •

When I was Governor in 1915, the total expenditure was less than 20 million dollars. Now it is 100 million, a 500 per cent gain to not over 50 per cent gain in population. We brag about our educational advancement. Let us see if our education has produced civilization. In my first term as Governor, the sheriffs and constables of the counties kept the peace and laws were enforced and we only had about 40 rangers to help quell local disturbances, including 900 miles of Mexican border. Now we have the same number of sheriffs and constables and the legislature just now adjourned appropriated four and a half million dollors to what they call public safety, for additional peace officers to the sheriffs and constables of the counties. It would appear that the more we educate the meaner we wet and the situation grows worse every day.

• • •

When W. P. Lane was Comptroller 24 years ago, his main deputy collected all the liquor taxes, collected from the liquor dealers in 50 wet counties of the state. The legislature just adjourned appropriated nearly two million dollars for the liquor board and its 700 apointees to enforce the liquor laws. I am afraid that old pioneer apostle of prohibition, my friend Dr. J. B. Cranfil, will laugh up his sleeve when us antis attempt to talk about regulations of the liquor business. Yea, if we don't do better than this adminstration, he will give us the horse laugh. It looks like law enforcement like salvation is no longer free or effective.

• • •

When I was Governor we managed to make about three million dollars out of penitentiary operation under a humane pardon policy. Now the legislature just adjourned appropriated nearly four million dollars to run the penitentiary system, and there will be very little to offset this expenditure. I wonder if the people would like to see a return to business sanity and efficiency in the management of their financial affairs. Who will speak first?

• • •

Oh, yes, I liked to forgot to call attention to the fact that notwithstanding to 100 million appropriation there are still kept off pension rolls 150,000 that are entitled to pension under the constitutional amendment voted by the people.

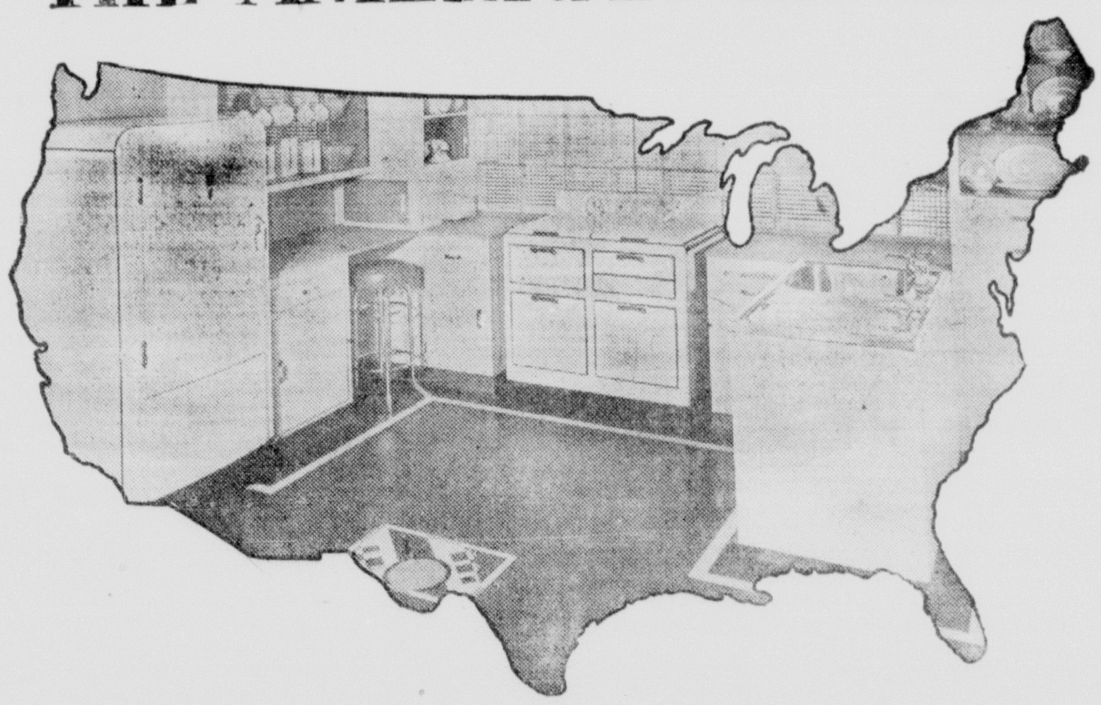
Glorifying
THE AMERICAN KITCHEN



Thousands of women are basing their entire kitchen modernizing plans on the 1937 gas range. And it is little wonder, for designers and fashionists everywhere hail it as the most beautiful cooking appliance. Preferred, they say, not only because of its smooth-flowing lines and glistening beauty — but most of all, because of its superior performance in every division of modern cookery. • Outstanding are its simmer burners that make possible "waterless" cooking without special utensils . . . its insulated fresh-air oven with its live, circulating heat always steadily applied . . . its high-speed broiler that grills meats more tender and more savory in less time. And every smart home-maker knows that gas is clean, fast and much cheaper • Isn't it worth visiting your gas company or dealer's store to discover how you, too, can glorify your kitchen for little money?

Frank Hubert Now Directs Longhorn Band In University

A former Cameron boy and son of Dr. W. R. Hubert here is attracting attention as a band leader. The following is taken from a recent issue of the Texas Longhorn, a university publication:

Frank W. R. Hubert of Austin was the new assistant director of the University of Texas Longhorn band Saturday night.

Hubert was appointed by Col. Geo. E. Hurt, director, and was unanimously acclaimed by the band members. This is his fourth year of service to the organization, and his new appointment was well deserved. A law student in the University, and also director of his own dance orchestra, Hubert has made quite a name for himself in music circles around Austin. On several occasions has he played for the All University dances at the Union Building, and it was at one of these dances that Joe Venuti heard his orchestra and remarked that it was the best college band that he had ever heard. Venuti played the Casa Manana show last year.

Col. Hubert is intending to form a freshman band next year, and is anticipating some three hundred members in the freshman and Varsity bands. If his plans materialize, Hubert will be the director of the Freshman band.

Robert Moore of Belfast was granted a divorce because a male friend of his wife left her a large legacy.

Mr. Swift has a number of great pictures for his Saturday programs. Folks won't forget "A Family Affair" with Lionel Barrymore. It was one of the sheer clasics of the year. We get all steamed up over the Sunday and Monday programs, maybe a musical comedy and overlook the real heart throbs of the screen. Go and see "Draegerman Courage," Saturday with Jean Muir and Barton McLane. The following Saturday Mr. Charlie Chan goes to the Olympics. Needless to say that its Warner Oland again.

* * *

Its something superb, this picture "Maytime" with Jeanette McDonald and Nelson Eddy. They once teamed in a great story of the north woods singing the Indian Love Call, and a host of other songs. Although the Cameron Theatre will show "Cafe Metropole" on June 20th and 21st, it looks like "Maytime" will get the call for sheer beauty and music. These great song birds are at the Cameron Sunday and Monday May 6 and 7.

When Edmund Lowe and Madge Evans team up in a picture nothing seems to be left open to desire. Now for Wednesday, June 8th its a kind of picture that will blast you out of your seat. # FUN with FACTS

THE FUN

1. In a room darkened so that you can barely distinguish articles, stand over or near an unlit light. Pick out some picture or object across the room. Turn on the light for 8 or 10 seconds, then turn it off. Try to distinguish the object on which your eyes were focused.

2. Place a match box or other small article on the edge of a mantlepiece or have someone hold a pencil vertically at eye level. Walk away six or eight feet. Close one eye tightly. Walk forward and try to place the tip of your finger on the object.

THE FACTS

1. Notice that there is quite an appreciable interval before the object becomes visible again. This nearly duplicates driving conditions at night with headlights of an approaching car. During the several seconds which may elapse before maximum vision returns, your car may travel more than 100 feet. (40 M.P.H. = 60 feet per sec.)

2. Without the unobstructed vision of both eyes, it is difficult to judge distances accurately.

Roy Spencer, catcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, was pitched four balls the other day, yet didn't get to first base. The explanation is that while he was leisurely trotting to the initial sack a team mate on second tried to steal third, and was tagged for the third out.

"A Good Example"

No business or profession is without a code of ethics.

True, one cannot always detect this fact, by observing the conduct of those engaged in the business.

Every such code of ethics lends atmosphere that begets confidence. A code of ethics has no parallel in building prestige, and, if followed, will result in better business and better business men.

The Herald has 'set a good example' for others to follow. In doing so, it has not always fund financial profits. The Herald has always stood firm against abuse of ethics.

These abuses occur through ignorance, and, often selfishness.

Newspapers worthy of the name, never sell their news columns. Likewise they submit to no dictation. They never seize "excuses" to sell advertising nor withhold values they are obliged to give in exchange for money invested.

Cheap Merchandising . . . selling below cost of production as a competative weapon will destroy any city or any business. Has Cameron suffered through low standards?

Ethics as good society in business also may mean a profit as well.

The Cameron Herald
